

Health Care Reform Information For Individuals

How does federal health care reform affect me?

- ◆ The federal health care reform law (Affordable Care Act) will enable Wyoming resident to apply for an enroll in health plans through the Health insurance Marketplace at www.healthcare.gov.
- ◆ Health insurance companies are required to sell insurance to any person regardless of health status and without imposing a waiting period or exclusion for a pre-existing condition.
- ◆ Individuals and families already covered by job-based health insurance can remain in those plans and need to do nothing further.
- ◆ A person who does not have health insurance and who does not enroll in a health insurance plan by January 1, 2014, may be subject to a tax penalty.

What if I cannot afford health insurance?

- ◆ Many Wyoming residents will be eligible for an insurance premium tax credit to offset the cost of their insurance premium. The tax credit will pay a percentage of the total premium based on a sliding scale for individuals earning between 100% and 400% of federal poverty level. The subsidies are only available to individuals in this income range who purchase health insurance through the Health Insurance Marketplace at www.healthcare.gov.
- ◆ In addition, individuals between 100% and 400% of federal poverty level may be eligible to receive subsidies to offset out-of-pocket expenses, such as deductibles and co-pays.
- ◆ For 2013, federal poverty level range of 100% - 400% is $11,490 to $45,960 for an individual and $23,550 to $94,200 for a family of four.

How do I get health insurance?

- ◆ There are two ways individuals and families can get health insurance:
 - 1) The federal Health Insurance Marketplace — Through www.healthcare.gov, individuals may apply for, compare and enroll in individual or family health insurance plans. The online application will also help consumers determine if they qualify for public health programs (Medicaid or SHIP), tax credits and/or health insurance premium subsidies. The Marketplace will be online but other means of enrollment will be possible. For information call the consumer hotline at: 1-800-318-2596.
 - 2) Traditional Insurance Market — The existing market of insurance will continue. Consumers may contact an insurance agent, call an insurance company directly, or get insurance through an employer. Policies sold outside the Marketplace are required to accept consumers without regard to health status and without pre-existing condition waiting periods or exclusions.
- ◆ Tax credits and premiums subsidies, however, are only available for plans purchased from the Health Insurance Marketplace at www.healthcare.gov.

When may I purchase insurance?

- ◆ The initial Open Enrollment period for plans within the Health Insurance Marketplace begins October 1, 2013, and ends March 31, 2014. Plans purchased during open enrollment will be in effect for calendar year 2014.
- ◆ Starting in 2014, Open Enrollment periods will run from October 15th through December 7th.
- ◆ Certain qualifying changes in circumstances—marriage, birth or adoption of a child, loss of a job, or other “special events”— will enable enrollment in a health insurance plan outside the regular Open Enrollment periods.
